

COSMA DRILO

Born 1797 on Saint Domingue | Loves freedom | Loves the ocean

Leader & Traveler

She's not the type to follow. Her powerful personality and strong determination make it impossible. She's courageous and sometimes aggressive. She resents authority, is stubborn, and impatient. She has a love for travel and adventure, and wants to decide where she's going.

Honest Lover

She'll be brutally honest, and love deeply. To those she loves, she's loyal, but those who dare to do ill against her will be avenged with an iron fist. Or a sword.

Unique Character Traits

She cherishes her Ashanti heritage and believes in Asase Ya, their fertility god. Much in life is symbolic to her, and she often wonders what Asase Ya is telling her, and acts accordingly. She's half Scottish and half Ashanti, which gives her a unique dialect. She'll protect those she loves with all she's got, and be painfully honest with them nonetheless.

She appears in ... Spoiler alert

The Adventuress, where she crosses Jean Laffite's plans, and A Half Flower, where she invites Balzac to join her at sea, needing a doctor, and as pirate to Victor and Jërriais when she attacks their vessel.
